Key Differences at a Glance

Type of Content
Both include independently researched articles, newsletter features and ready-to-share social media posts.

Level of Visibility
Featured Partner is included alongside other relevant businesses. Resident Expert gets a dedicated, front-and-centre expert feature.

Category Exclusivity
Featured Partner does not have exclusivity. Resident Expert is the only business in their category to hold the expert position.

Ongoing Presence
Featured Partner receives features periodically. Resident Expert is featured every issue.

Social Media Support
Featured Partner receives social posts to share. Resident Expert receives two branded social post downloads every week.

Resident Expert

A dedicated expert position in your category.

Take a leading role with a front-and-centre expert article in every issue, positioning you as the go-to expert in your category.

- A dedicated expert article featuring your name and expertise every issue
- You are the only business in your category (no direct competitors in the expert position)
- Featured in our regular newsletter every issue
- Two branded social post downloads every week for you to share
- Links back to your directory listing and website
- Positions you as the recognised local expert in your field

Trusted Content
Independent, editorial-style articles explore the questions local people are asking.

Greater Visibility
Reach more local people through our newsletter and social channels.

Exclusive Expertise
Resident Expert is the only business in their category to hold the expert position.

Ongoing Opportunities
Regular coverage builds awareness, enquiries and long-term visibility.

Serious Local Kudos
Be recognised as the trusted local expert and the go-to business in your category.

If You Don't Secure the Expert Position,

Your Competitor Could.

There is only one Resident Expert in each category. If you don't take the position, another business in your field will. They'll be the recognised local expert, featured in every issue, while you remain just another listing.

Without the Expert Position

You can still have a directory listing.
Your business can be listed and may appear in other relevant articles alongside complementary businesses.

You won't be the recognised expert.
Another business in your category will hold the Resident Expert position, with a dedicated article in every issue.

Less prominence.
You may be featured occasionally, but you won't have the ongoing presence and authority of the Resident Expert.

Your competitor gets the kudos.
They become the go-to expert, building awareness, enquiries and long-term visibility in your local area.

With the Expert Position

Be the recognised local expert.
Your name and expertise are featured in a dedicated article in every issue, positioning you as the go-to expert in your category.

Regular, front-and-centre coverage.
A substantial, expert-led article in every newsletter, based on the key questions, trends and topics in your industry.

Two ready-to-download social posts weekly.
We provide two branded social media posts each week for you to share with your audience.

Exclusive position in your category.
Only one Resident Expert per category in this local publication. No direct competitors in the expert position.

Build lasting trust and authority.
Ongoing coverage helps you stay top of mind, attract new enquiries and strengthen your reputation over time.

Once it's taken, it's taken.

The Resident Expert position is exclusive to one business in each category. If you don't secure it, your direct competitors can still have directory listings and may be featured, but they won't hold the expert position.

Stand Out
Be the recognised expert in your field.

Greater Visibility
Your name and expertise in every issue.

Build Trust
Regular expert content keeps you top of mind.

Attract More Enquiries
A stronger local presence helps drive new business.

Long-Term Advantage
Keep ahead of competitors and grow your reputation over time.
